

Christmas Challenge Code of Conduct

Welcome to the Christmas Challenge, organized by Parkyeri! We are excited to have you as part of our community. To ensure a positive and inclusive experience for all participants, we kindly ask everyone to adhere to the following Code of Conduct.

1. Inclusivity and Respect

- Diversity Matters: The Christmas Challenge is open to participants of all backgrounds and experiences. Embrace the diversity within our community and treat everyone with respect.
- Be Inclusive: Encourage collaboration and cooperation. Respect differing opinions and ideas, fostering an inclusive environment for all.

2. Professionalism and Ethical Behavior

- Maintain High Standards: Uphold professional conduct throughout the event. This includes courteous communication, constructive feedback, and a positive attitude.
- No Tolerance for Malicious Activity: Any form of malicious activity, including code plagiarism, harassment, or other unethical behavior, is strictly prohibited and may result in disqualification.

3. Collaboration and Engagement

- Encourage Interaction: While interaction is not mandatory, participants are encouraged to engage with organizers and fellow participants for inquiries, guidance, or assistance.
- Team Collaboration: Participants are invited to showcase individual skills or collaborate in groups. Ensure fair consolidation of group submissions for streamlined evaluation.

4. Licensing and Intellectual Property

- Respect Open-Source Principles: Projects developed during the Christmas Challenge must be based on open-source, licensed, or free software.
- Adherence to Licenses: Participants are expected to adhere to the licensing and intellectual property rights of the open-source projects they engage with.

5. Legal Compliance

- Abide by the Rules: Participants agree to abide by the rules and regulations outlined for the Christmas Challenge. Non-compliance may lead to disqualification.

6. Communication and Conflict Resolution

- Effective Communication: For questions, concerns, or dispute resolution related to the platform or hackathon, participants are encouraged to reach out to organizers via the provided email address: challenge@parkyeri.com
- Prompt Address: Organizers are here to support and promptly address any issues encountered during the event.

7. Additional Guidelines

- Project Alignment: Ensure that all code, documentation, and contributions align with the guidelines, standards, and requirements of the open-source projects chosen.
- Data Privacy: Participants are responsible for handling personal data in compliance with applicable data protection and privacy laws.

8. Disclaimers

- Technical Issues: The organizers and Parkyeri are not liable for any technical issues, data loss, or other problems that may occur during the Christmas Challenge. Participants are responsible for the security and integrity of their work.

9. Changes and Decisions

- Rule Modifications: The organizers reserve the right to make necessary changes to the rules and regulations if circumstances require.
- Final Decisions: Decisions of the professional jury are final and binding.

By participating in the Christmas Challenge, you agree to uphold and abide by this Code of Conduct. Let's make this event a collaborative and positive experience for everyone!
